PEKKA GAJSER Soft Skills

Autonomous, responsible work style

Transparent, self-driven worker. Meticulous time tracking, comprehensive briefings, and systematic documentation of decisions and processes are second nature. Remote work experience since 2001.

Competent in the entire project lifecycle

Experience in the entire lifecycle of website, web app, and e-commerce projects, product launches, and digital marketing campaigns: creating a project plan in close collaboration with stakeholders based on USPs and business goals; creation of technical specifications, critical questions about project foundations and objectives, conceptualization, data structures, UI sketches, ongoing contact with colleagues/clients/supervisors during projects, technical implementation, launch, operation, and ongoing administration.

A friendly and interested presence in a team, with clients, and in public

I enjoy communicating with people, remotely and in person, can express myself well and know how to explain even complex technical matters clearly and without unnecessary jargon - natively in German, near native in English, conversational in Finnish and Spanish.

Understanding of regulatory environments

Good fundamental knowledge of regulations such as GDPR, „Green Claims“ frameworks, labeling requirements for food products, and more. For two clients, I was the go-to person for GDPR issues and responsible for the technical implementation of results from data protection and security audits in websites and apps; for one client, I was responsible for implementing QM guidelines, EU directives, and regulatory authority requirements around food packaging and labeling.

Well-organized remote work

I work from my own house in Arrieta/Lanzarote with large office and meeting rooms, ergonomic chairs, and height-adjustable desks. Multiple redundant internet connections (WiMAX, 5G, Starlink), redundant hardware, daily backups in the office and in the cloud.

KI and automation in work processes

Interested in and actively researching AI use in specific work processes. Experimenting with cutting edge AI tools like OpenCode, Conductor.build, n8n, Codex, Claude Code, Cursor 2, and more. Good at explaining benefits as well as concerns and limitations of new technologies. Building workshops or courses for fellow professionals in my fields of work - design, programming, marketing, and „knowledge work“ in general - would excite me as an (additional) area of responsibility.

Web Development

Extensive experience and in-depth knowledge in PHP, HTML, JavaScript, CSS, LESS, TailwindCSS and much more. 15+ years in Wordpress, Troubleshooting, custom themes, plugins, and Gutenberg blocks, Custom Post Types, Multisite Management. Experience with many more CMS and E-Commerce platforms. Web Apps with Laravel and Rapid Development Framework, Filament. Version control with Git; CI/CD with Gitlab, DeployHQ and Github Workflows. Long-time global top #10 user on Stack Overflow.

AI use:

Claude Opus for planning large-scale web projects and creating detailed specification documents to provide context for code generation

Cursor, Claude Code with Sonnet and ChatGPT 5 for code generation

Conductor.build and OpenCode for orchestrated, multi-model code generation

Creative & Marketing

Proficient in Adobe Creative Cloud, especially InDesign, Illustrator, Photoshop, Premiere, Lightroom, Media Encoder; Automated image and document processing with ImageMagick, GhostScript and FFMPEG

MailChimp and Mailerlite for newsletter distribution and email campaigns

Notion and Adobe Express for coordinating distributed remote marketing teams, asset libraries, and content collections

AI use:

Claude Opus: Planning visuals and campaigns, developing advertising and copywriting guidelines as context information, generating initial drafts for ad copy and sales messaging

Various models like Stable Diffusion, Sora, Veo, etc. through Leonardo: photo asset generation, creating placeholders and providing spec photos for photo shoots

Online growth

SEO, analytics, and diagnostics: Google Search Console, Bing Webmaster Tools, various online diagnostic tools for DNS and email deliverability, multi-device browser testing with Sizzy, native browser developer tools

Communications: SMS via Twilio, transactional emails via Mailersend and other platforms. Experience with Linux server administration, DNS and Domain troubleshooting, Domain portfolio management
Online advertising: Meta Business Manager, Google Ads, Twitter/X ads
Web analytics: Google Analytics, Matomo, Plausible, PostHog

AI use:

Claude Opus for planning keyword and search campaigns based on search trend analyses derived from online tools

Claude Opus for troubleshooting DNS and MX records to resolve email deliverability issues

OpenAI API for programmatic content manipulation and analytics

Availability

Available immediately.

Primarily looking for a long-term collaboration from 1.5 days per week to full-time. Individual projects on a freelance basis are also possible.

Spanish tax resident, registered as self-employed (autónomo) with social security coverage since 2018.

Interests and hobbies

Community Engagement

Well-regarded, engaged and known for friendly, detailed, thoroughly researched contributions, assistance and support in various online communities:

On programming topics, e.g. 6,900 answers on Stack Overflow

On self-employment, e.g. in Autónom@s & self-employed in Spain

In local groups on Lanzarote and for Germans in Spain

Actively involved in developing community guidelines and feature ideas for a less hostile culture on Meta Stack Overflow.

Language & Culture

Through extended stays in the UK and USA, I have developed a deep connection to these countries, perfectly fluent language skills, and a good deal of cultural understanding. From 2011-2015, I studied Interdisciplinary American Studies alongside work, in Tübingen and Philadelphia.

Art, nature, eco-construction, and gardening

I am a nature lover and passionate about drawing, illustrating comics, painting, and writing texts and stories. On my large finca, I spend much of my time gardening and working on various construction projects - where possible, with natural materials like lime, sand, and rock.

Booking system Web App with Laravel

Planning, Design in Adobe XD, Implementation using PHP / Laravel / Filament

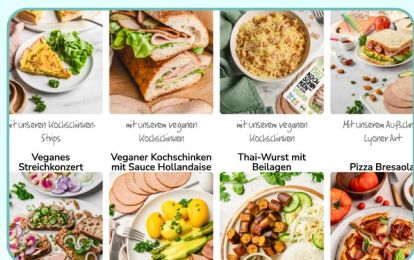

I rebuilt the booking system for a germany-wide rental chain using Laravel 12, Rapid Application Development framework Filament, and several other frameworks from the Laravel ecosystem. The system sports separate login areas for rental locations, administrators, and end customers, automatic booking of available vehicles, generation of contract PDFs, easy-to-use booking calendars, and much more.

Asset publication pipeline

Planning, design using command line tools, bash, ImageMagick, ffmpeg, PHP, Dropbox

For Wheaty, I built and maintained a fully automated asset publication pipeline for product and package photography. Assets for 30+ products in 5+ languages would be stored as Photoshop files in a Dropbox. A change would trigger an automated pipeline, converting images to JPG/WebP as needed, resizing, and publishing them to the web site and automatically updating catalogues for food industry clients in Germany using the Atrify API.

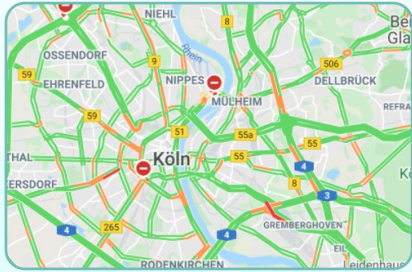

Nutritional values for recipes using OpenAI API

Planning, implementation as a WordPress plugin using PHP

For Wheaty's treasure trove of 300+ recipes featuring their products accumulated over the years, I built an OpenAI integration that calculates rough nutritional values for each recipe based on the ingredients list, as well as an estimate of recipe difficulty.

Selected work examples: Web Development, automation & AI

Content aggregator and map visualizer for NetCologne Planning, Implementation in PHP

Koeln.de, Cologne's official city portal, tasked me with developing a filterable live event map that imports, aggregates, caches, and renders event data from various sources like the portal's own Drupal install and various XML sources from venues around the city. The events would then be rendered as a custom-styled Google map.

Autónomotools

Planning, Design in Adobe XD, Implementation in Wordpress

Autónomotools is my upcoming side project based on Laravel 12, offering the self-employed in Spain various tools to gauge a healthy hourly rate, calculate their debt with tax and social security authorities, and more.

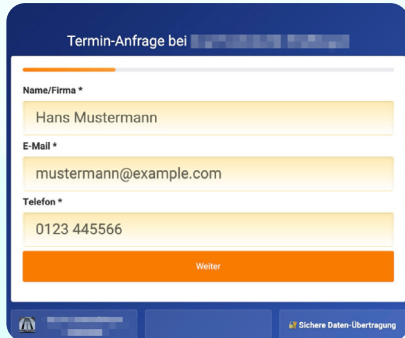

Extensive customizations for WordPress site

Planning, Design in Adobe XL, implementation in PHP

For the website wheaty.de which I built and managed until 2025, I created numerous custom Wordpress plugins, Gutenberg blocks, and other customizations like:

- An automatic and secure XML data import from the company's internal product database - ensuring that ingredients, nutritional information and much more always match the data printed on the packaging.
- A raffle plugin that conducts GDPR-compliant giveaways with automatic drawing and the creation of shipping orders for the winners.
- automatic asset import for packaging and product photos in all languages

Booking form optimization to increase conversion rates

Analyzing the visitor and conversion flow on the chain's online booking platform, we discovered that a large number of customers open the booking form, but never end up completing it. The form was very long, with some 20 fields to fill out, and I suspected many users got fatigued halfway. I replaced the form with a multi-step process with large, mobile-friendly controls, showing a maximum of three form fields per page. This resulted in a stable, long-term increase of conversion rates by 20-30%.

Web site analytics with Plausible

Google Analytics is doubtlessly the gold standard in web analytics - but it comes with complexity and GDPR challenges that not everyone appreciates. I implemented Plausible, a lightweight and GDPR-compliant alternative, on the rental chain's web site, and the client is very happy with simplicity and accessibility of the new solution.

Onboarding and transactional E-Mail, SMS notifications, and surveys

For the booking process, I introduced several measures to make the user experience more pleasant. A well-designed onboarding E-Mail after signup provides vital basic information. Communication with the rental location works through an E-Mail system and location staff are additionally informed about important messages through SMS via Twilio. A customer satisfaction survey a week after the booking ends has turned out to be a treasure trove of information about common problems on pickup and return, and the service level of each location, leading to many subsequent optimizations and better training for on-location staff.

Custom built profitability calculator with PHP, JavaScript, and Claude Code

When Wheaty decided to build a brand online store for direct-to-consumer, „outlet“ style sales, one of the most important tasks was to establish a pricing system offering extremely attractive prices - but still being profitable for the company. Item prices were at issue as well as minimum order sizes, free vs. added shipping, and bulk discounts. I coded, with the help of AI code generation, a custom web tool that allowed us to simulate and save hundreds of different pricing constellations - allowing for a level of control rarely seen in small to mid-sized E-Commerce situations.

Custom template design and programming in JTL-Shop

Technical and logistical constraints forced the use of JTL as the back-end online shopping system - I built a custom template, utilized the JavaScript API to create additional user-friendly interfaces (like a „countdown“ that shows when you reach the minimum order for free shipping) and eliminate friction, like unnecessary clicks, in the user interface.

Strategic advertising campaign to drive traffic and purchases

To support the shop launch, we set up a long-term marketing campaign on various Social Media channels as well as in Google AdWords - with careful retargeting and targeting primarily those with previous interest in the brand, as those turned out to be more likely to make a purchase - but also offering trial packages and targeting those with curiosity towards organic food, vegetarianism and veganism, but not yet familiar with the brand.

Seitan: der Grundstoff von Wheaty - eine Jahrhunderte alte Tradition

Die meisten Wheaty-Produkte basieren auf Seitan, einem traditionellen asiatischen Lebensmittel, das vor vielen Jahrhunderten von buddhistischen Mönchen als Fleischersatz entwickelt wurde und das wir an den westlichen Geschmack angepasst haben. Um Seitan herzustellen, wird aus Weizen das Eiweiß herausgewaschen. Das Ergebnis wird dann gekocht und gewürzt. In der modernen Lebensmittelherstellung sind die Prozesse zur Seitan-Herstellung natürlich maschinell und finden in einem viel größeren Maßstab als abgebildet statt - die grundlegenden Schritte haben sich jedoch bis heute nicht verändert. Work example: Storytelling and USP-based Social Media campaigns for Wheaty, a leading organic meat alternatives brand in Germany

In 2025, I created several Social Media content campaigns for Wheaty, focusing on three directions with dozens of campaign visuals each. My responsibilities: Conception, creation and planning, Design of these samples in Adobe Express, guidelines for the designer

„Under the hood“

carousels, info-graphics, and social media posts focusing on the products' „clean“ aspects, exploring individual ingredients and how they are sourced

„Bread and water“

Contrasting real, negative social media comments about the vegan diet being boring and tasteless with supple recipe photos from the brand's archives

„Good energy“

Work example: Performance-based post-Christmas sales campaign on Social Media

In 2024 and 2025, I was tasked with a campaign to sell Wheaty's leftover stock of its plant based Christmas roast - with as small a budget as possible. It is a highly versatile product that works great for anything from burgers to Beef Wellington and we focused on this aspect.
